Abolish the Congestion Charge

Chris Prior for the London Assembly

"Use your vote, have your say"

CAMPAIGN INFORMATION

7 April 2008

I am standing as the Abolish the Congestion Charge candidate in the London wide London Assembly election on 1 May 2008.

I am happy to provide any contributions/photos you may require for your election coverage and to be interviewed. I include a short campaign summary/biography and useful links with this e-mail.

75 word campaign summary

We must abolish the congestion charge. It is an unfair tax, it costs over £5.50 of every £8 to collect and it simply doesn't work. The more bad government is tolerated, the more of it we will get.

Congestion and global warming are real problems that require real solutions.

Londoners pay £15bn more in tax than they receive in public services. We need to invest more of this money to transform London's public transport.

50 word biography

Chris is 43, married to the author Lily Prior. They live in Battersea with their baby son.

Chris is the Chief Executive of storeton.com. Previously, he has worked in government trying to improve efficiency. He also the founder of Plug in Britain, which promotes plug-in hybrid and electric vehicles.
